MangystauTour

Information:

- Bozzhyra is a section of the chink (side) of the Ustyurt plateau, where Mother Nature gave complete freedom to her imagination, creating an unearthly landscape in white. It is located in the Karakiya district of the Mangistau region, 300 km from the city of Aktau. Height - 250 m.

The opinion of tourists who visited Bozzhyra:

- The view was just alien! In other matters, it is with that people describe what they saw: Mars, space ... acquaintances even assumed that it was America.
- Well, we have another shock from what we saw. I sailing down the valley! Or maybe a dinosaur put its surface, or the spikes of a magic castle ... Choose when you look closely, you will see several camps at the foot of the mountain. This place is so popular among tourist trails.

Interesting fact:

- This monument was included in the list of sacred objects under the project of regional significance "Sacred Geography of Kazakhstan" within the framework of the program "Looking into the future: modernization of public consciousness".
- The foot of the "fangs" is the most famous point of Bozzhyra. Tourists rush here first of all.
- The rocks, like chameleons, change their appearance depending on the lighting. The beige color predominates, but interlayers of brown, pink, gray, white and yellow can be seen.
- Seeing the chalk mountains lit by moonlight is a special piece of luck.
- Here you can shoot Hollywood westerns or science fiction films. It seems that these landscapes are of alien origin. But in fact, they were once the bottom of the ancient Tethys Ocean. This incredible landscape was created by nature.
